

VOL. XXXVIII

STEVENS POINT, WIS., MAY 31, 1916.

NO. 47

PAROLE GRANTED TWO

August Krueger and Frank Melczynski Will Be Released From State Penitentiary.

Applications for the parole of two Portage county men serving terms for murder in the state prison at Waupun were taken up by the state board of control at a meeting in Madison last week. Both applications were granted and the prisoners will be released this week, it is expected, as only the drawing up of the necessary papers stands between them and liberty.

August Krueger of the town of Plover was one of the two whose parole has been secured. Krueger was convicted of first degree murder in October, 1912, and sentenced to state prison for life. In March, 1911, he shot and killed his wife at the family home in Plover, the crime having come as the climax of an unhappy married existence. At his trial Krueger pleaded insanity and charged that his wife drove him to commit the deed. In December, 1912, Governor F. E. McGovern commuted his term to seven years, making him eligible to parole last April. He is now about 64 years of age. He will return to his farm in Plover, which has been operated by a son.

Frank Melczynski, who shot and killed his father, Joseph Melczynski, in November, 1909, at the family home in Dewey, and whose 15 year sentence was commuted to 10 years last April, making him eligible to immediate parole, will be released at the same time as Krueger. Melczynski pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced on March 16, 1910. He is now 26 years of age. His step-mother and two children have been living in this city, but, with Frank, will return to the farm in Dewey to start life over again.

Fisher & Cashion of this city represented Krueger and Melczynski and secured both paroles.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

As announced in last week's Gazette, the funeral of the late Peter Schliesmann was held from St. Martin's church at 10 o'clock last Friday morning. Those who acted as honorary pallbearers were John Dineen, William Cauley, Sr., Leon Dembiczak, Matt Domaszek, Martin Heffron and Felix Bruski. Relatives and friends present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schliesmann, Rhinelander; Fred Schliesmann, Cambria; Mrs. Geo. Knoller and son Coniff, Dancy; and Miss Selina and Jerry Breitenstein, Knowlton. Mrs. Knoller was organist at the requiem high mass.

TALK UNION HIGH SCHOOL.

Sentiment Strong for Institution at Booster Meeting Held at Amherst Monday.

The meeting held at the opera house in the village of Amherst Monday evening for the purpose of discussing the question and testing sentiment in regard to the proposed union high school, was attended by a crowd of two or three hundred people representing all the districts interested.

Rev. B. O. Richter presided and the speakers were F. R. Springer, J. M. Coyner, Prof. J. E. Delzell, P. N. PePtersen, Miss Frances Bannach and Rev. Richter. All gave excellent talks on the proposition, which was a new thing to most of those present. Later a "straw vote" was taken, showing that sentiment was practically unanimous in favor of continuing with the plan. A committee consisting of Rev. Richter, C. J. Iverson, O. A. Nelson and L. H. Johnson was appointed to keep the interest alive and it is planned to have another meeting in the near future. The Amherst band furnished music on the streets and in the opera house.

The union high school is not an experiment, but is working successfully in this state. Should one be established at Amherst it would embrace the town of Amherst and the villages of Amherst, Nelsonville and Amherst Junction. The graded schools, the rural schools in the territory and eight grades of the school in Amherst village would be continued and the union high school would be in charge of a committee of three elected by the voters of the territory. The course of study in the institution would be modern and complete, especially planned to meet the requirements of the country people as well as those in the villages. Liberal state aid is available for the maintenance of such schools.

TICKETS FOR COMMENCEMENT.

As heretofore admission to class day and commencement exercises of the Stevens Point High school will be by ticket only. Those wishing tickets for either may obtain them at the office of the superintendent, on Monday, June 5, at 9 o'clock. Not more than two tickets will be given to each individual. No telephone orders taken.

GETS BLOOMER BRIDE.

Jacob Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz of Amherst Junction, is receiving the congratulations of numerous friends because of his marriage last week. The bride was Miss Ida Viedemann of Bloomer, and the ceremony took place at the home of her parents on Tuesday. They came to this city on the Soo line limited train that night, going from here to Amherst Junction, near where Jake operates a valuable farm. He is a fine young man and it is said that he has made an excellent selection for a life companion.

ATTEND UNCLE'S FUNERAL.

Mrs. Aurilla Iverson and Cecile Sterling returned home Monday morning from Abbotsford, where they attended the funeral of their uncle, John Sterling, who died at his home near that village at 7 o'clock last Friday morning. Mr. Sterling was an old resident of Clark county, having for years operated a farm now conducted by his son, George, at whose home he died. He was 75 years of age. Surviving are three sons, George and Nedry of Abbotsford and Allen of Phillips, and one daughter, Mrs. Frank Carver of Colby. The funeral was held from the home Sunday afternoon.

THE RED CROSS WORK.

The Red Cross work at the library club rooms will be continued next Friday, June 2, at 2:30 p. m. All ladies of the community are urged to assist in this work for an hour or two if impossible to give the whole afternoon.

The Red Cross Aid society is preparing to ship a second box and hopes to be able to send another in the near future. The work thus far has been carried on by a limited number, despite the general interest manifested, and the officers make an urgent appeal to all who have not yet given their support to do so now. Time, funds and material are all appreciated and it is hoped more will contribute.

The three local banks are in charge of the arrangements.

SOCIAL A SUCCESS.

The ice cream social given by the Catholic ladies of Custer at Foresters' hall at that place, last evening, for the benefit of St. Mary's church was one of the most successful events, socially and financially, that has ever been given by the members of the congregation. During the evening the following program was carried out: Opening address by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Barthelme, piano duet, Miss Florence Lukasavage, Sophia Pasternacki; poem, Miss Teresa Maslowski; clasp dance by pupils of Miss Gertrude O'Keefe; piano solo, Miss Sophia Pasternacki; dialogue, "The Best Plan," pupils of Miss Gertrude O'Keefe; duet, Misses Teresa and Grace Maslowski; dialogue, "Teddy's Plan," pupils of Miss O'Keefe; Memorial day poem, Miss Grace Maslowski; "The Patriot's Club," pupils of Miss O'Keefe; address by Jos. DECISION IS UPHELD Wisconsin Supreme Court Affirms Opinion of Judge Reid in the School Controversy.

The decision of Circuit Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau, which upheld the action of the town board of Buena Vista in uniting school districts Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, has been affirmed by the Wisconsin supreme court, according to an announcement made last Friday. The appellants, Edward Berry and Charles H. Dorscheid, made no fight and the appeal was therefore lost by default.

To the person unacquainted with the situation in Buena Vista, it would seem that the fight is now closed. But from all that can be learned, the issue is far from settled. Those opposed to consolidation, it is rumored, will take steps to have the newly elected town board set aside the order of their predecessors in office, in which event the districts will be restored to their original status. This, it is argued, will result in an appeal to the state superintendent, who, if he goes according to "form," will restore the consolidation order. What would follow such action is, of course, problematical, as both sides feel confident of their ground and the mixed-up condition of the school laws leaves the question open to conjecture.

It is also stated that the friends of consolidation will make an immediate attempt to negotiate the $9,000 loan from the state trust fund authorized last fall for the building of the school. The result of this effort will bring a "show-down" on which future proceedings will be based.

The annual school meeting occurs on the first Monday in July.

THE IRIS IS OUT.

The year book of the Normal, "The Iris," is being distributed today and is a creditable review of the 1916 school year. Celia Boyington, a Senior in the home economics department, was the editor-in-chief, and Sam Ellis the business manager. The book contains nearly 200 pages, with numerous cuts of familiar school scenes and school organizations.

SAILS FOR EUROPE.

Dr. John R. McDill of Milwaukee is one of three American physicians who left this week for Europe to establish field hospitals in the central European countries. They were sent by the American physicians' expeditionary committee. Dr. McDill was a boyhood resident of this county, his father, Dr. A. S. McDill, having lived in the town of Plover for many years. The late G. E. McDill, cashier of the Citizens National bank, and Dr. John R. McDill were cousins.

TWO FORD STORIES.

A Ford touring car was damaged quite seriously when left standing near the G. A. Gullikson garage on Ellis street Monday afternoon. A larger car from out of town approached from the east and the driver did not discover that the street was fenced off on account of the new pavement until he was only a short distance away. He attempted to pass the Ford and turn onto the driveway leading into the garage and in doing so hit the other car, putting a dent in the rear of the Ford, the fenders of which were also bent. The driver of the machine settled with A. T. Johnson, owner of the Ford, and continued on his way. Nobody was hurt. Mr. Johnson purchased the Ford only a week or two ago.

Another Ford story comes from Plover village, where the touring car owned by Glen Porter of the town of Plover tipped over Sunday afternoon. The owner and several companions were in the car, which was being driven by an inexperienced man when the accident occurred. No injuries resulted, although the machine was damaged, including a broken windshield and bent fenders.

BANQUET THIS EVENING.

Normal Alumni Association to Hold Reunion at School This Evening.

The banquet of the Alumni association of the Normal school will be held in the school gymnasium at 6:30 this evening. The meal will be served by the girls of the home economics department, under the supervision of Miss Bessie M. Allen. The gym has been tastefully decorated for the occasion. The motto of the graduating class, "We Finish to Begin," has been appropriately placed and the tables decorated by the home economics girls.

The principal feature of the program will be the unveiling of the picture of former President T. B. Pray. The speech preceding this ceremony will be made by Prof. A. J. Herlick. H. A. Schofield the newly elected president of the Eau Claire Normal school, will be the principal speaker. A program of toasts will be carried out and music furnished by the Normal orchestra. It is expected that about 140 will attend the banquet. Prof. M. M. Ames is president of the Alumni association.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Julius Herek, Stockton, to Helen Sanke, Hockton; Earl A. Hibbard, Knowlton, to Elsie Abt, Dewey; Jos. Kuliszewski, Dewey, to Helen Mateck; Dewey; Gottfrad Guldborg, St. Paul, to Aasta Kalstad, New Hope.

PATRIOTISM KEYNOTE

Thousands of Flags to Stir Up Glorious Sentiment in Stevens Point July 4th.

Four thousand little American flags will be distributed among the children who attend Stevens Point's Fourth of July celebration this year. Patriotism will be the keynote of the day and every effort will be made to make it the cleanest and best observance of Independence Day the city has ever fostered.

A well attended meeting of business men was held in the city offices Monday evening to perfect definite arrangements. After considerable debate a motion outlining the following program was practically unanimously carried:

Parade in the morning. Sports, baseball games and horse races at the fair grounds in the afternoon.

Program at court house square in the evening, followed by a one hour carnival on Main street.

The parade will be made a leading feature, the idea being to make it beautiful and symbolic of deeds and ideals dear to American hearts. Prizes will be given the winners of the sport contests among the boys and girls at the fair grounds in the afternoon. The City Baseball league will put on a double-header, beginning at 2:30 o'clock and it is planned to put up purses for novelty horse races. In the evening a program of vocal and instrumental music and an address by some well known speaker will be given at the court house square.

Weber's band will be an attraction throughout the morning, afternoon and evening. Owing to objections that have been raised in the past and also to the increased cost, the fireworks display will be dispensed with. It is believed that this move will meet with public approval.

M. E. Bruce was appointed chairman of the program committee, which will arrange the day's events, and he has selected the following others to act with him: Supt. H. C. Snyder, Mrs. John A. Stemen and Mrs. T. H. Hanna.

NEARLY MILE A MINUTE.

A homing pigeon flew from Burlington to Stevens Point, a distance of 176 miles, in 3 hours and 15 minutes today, maintaining an average speed of over 55 miles an hour. The bird is owned by Thos. and Michael Helminski and was one of seven sent by them and T. J. Coan to Burlington. They were released there at 6:15 o'clock.

SEEK NEW MILL CREW

John Week Lumber Co. Advertise for Men to Replace Strikers in Local Saw Mill.

"Men wanted to work in saw mill and bark camps. Steady employment. Apply at once. John Week Lumber Co."

The above advertisement appears in this issue of The Gazette and indicates the course the John Week Lumber Co. has taken to bring about a resumption of activity at its mill, the employees of which went on a strike a few weeks ago.

The strikers have refused a uniform increase in wages of 10 cents per day and the company has declared emphatically that this proposition is the limit of what they can reasonably concede. A meeting at the strikers' headquarters in Manchesski's hall on N. Second street last Wednesday evening was attended by N. A. Week and L. R. Anderson, representatives of the company. The purpose of the meeting was to take a vote on the question of whether the men were willing to return to work at the 10 cent increase. The chairman of the strikers, John Janikowski, refused to put the question unless the raise was put at 15 cents, so the meeting ended with no results accomplished.

The company engaged society hall for last Friday evening and was represented by N. A. Week and Charles Clark. A vote on the 10 cent raise was finally taken and the result was 54 in favor of continuing the strike and 13 for returning to work. The company announced that no further parleys would be held.

As a protection against trouble, special police have been engaged to watch the company's mill property in the Fourth ward, two officers being on duty days and two nights. The men are paid by the company. So far no trouble has been reported, according to Chief of Police Hofsoos this afternoon.

It is stated by the company this afternoon that quite a number of the strikers have asked to have their jobs back and that about eight of them have been put to work in the yards. The others who apply will be taken on as soon as the crew can be organized to start up the saw and planing mills again, which is expected to be this week or next. A meeting of the strikers was held in Manchesski's hall again last evening, when but 34 were present. Most of these stated they had decided to return to work and it is presumed that nearly all of the workmen who are still in the city will do likewise. Chairman John Janikowski of the strikers stated to a Gazette representative this afternoon that the strike is undoubtedly broken.

Pfiffner, for the past several years cashier for the Soo line at their South Side freight depot, has resigned to accept a position with the Hardware Insurance Co., devoting a part of his time to work in the office on Strong's avenue and occasionally making trips on the road. Mr. Pfiffner's resignation with the railroad company takes effect this evening, but he will devote the balance of the week to instructing his successor, Ben Held, who comes here from Eau Claire. The young man is a son of Rev. and Mrs. Anton Held of this city and has been the Soo line's cashier at Eau Claire for the past year.

The public is invited to attend these exercises, which will begin at 10:00 a. m.

PAYS BIG AMOUNT.

Felix Marczykiewicz of the town of Hull paid $10 and costs, $54 in all, in county court Monday. He was arrested a couple of weeks ago on a warrant charging assault with intent to do great bodily harm, but the minor charge of assault and battery was substituted. The complainant was Mike Kranski, who alleged that Marczykiewicz hit him with a brick during a quarrel. Undoubtedly it was the most expensive brick the defendant ever heaved.

NAMED OIL INSPECTOR

C. G. Macnish of This City Appointed To State Position—Begins Work Today.

C. G. Macnish of this city on Monday morning received notice of his appointment as deputy state oil inspector of district No. 29. The appointment was made by B. N. Moran, state supervisor of inspectors of illuminating oils and member of the assembly from Florence, Forest and Oneida counties.

District No. 29 consists of all of Portage and Waushara counties and all of Waupaca county, with the exception of nine towns in the northern part; it also takes in the towns of Auburndale, Sherry and Milladore, in Wood county. Mr. Macnish began his official duties today, when he went to Nelsonville to take over the supplies in possession of L. C. Bronstad, the retiring inspector.

The position to which Mr. Macnish has been appointed pays a salary of $100 per month and expenses. Although it will necessitate his being out of the city part of the time, he will be able to conduct his retail shoe store on Main street as at no time will he be compelled to be away for a long period. The work will be familiar to him, owing to the fact that he held the same position a number of years ago.

In his work Mr. Macnish will, among other duties, inspect all illuminating oil shipped into the district, sealing it or refusing it according to the outcome of the tests made upon it. The shippers and the receivers of oil are compelled by law to notify him of shipments.

Announcement of Mr. Macnish's appointment will be gratifying to his many local friends.

A $50,000.00 VERDICT.

A verdict of $50,000.00 was returned into Ramsey county district court last Saturday in favor of J. W. Eckert of Milwaukee against the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway company, as damages for personal injury sustained at Chicago, December 26, 1914. This is the largest personal injury verdict ever won in the state of Minnesota. Walter D. Corrigan of Milwaukee conducted the case for the plaintiff, with Attorneys Mahoney and Hannaford, also of Milwaukee. Eckert was a pressman for Heller & Co., printers of Milwaukee, prior to his injury, and has a wife and one child.

Mr. Corrigan's numerous friends throughout this section will be pleased to learn of his victory and trust that should an appeal be taken, the verdict will be sustained.

BURIED THEIR BROTHER.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Davidson returned Monday afternoon from Livingston, Montana, where they attended the funeral of his brother, Wm. A. Davidson, held last Thursday afternoon. The deceased gentleman's sister-in-law, Mrs. F. M. Corcoran, who also went west on this sad mission, arrived home this afternoon.

It will be remembered that Will was fatally hurt while employed on the Northern Pacific railroad. The accident happened on Friday, May 12th, at Logan, Mont., and he passed away a week from the following Sunday. The train crew had completed the run from Livingston to Logan and Mr. Davidson was accompanying the engine to the roundhouse. A tank car was being shoved ahead of the locomotive and the gentleman rode on the forward end of this car. It struck a switch on what is known as the scale track and was derailed, throwing Will under the wheels and cutting off one of his feet.

He was taken to the hospital at Missoula, some 150 miles distant, and an operation performed the next Monday. The patient appeared to rally well and kept in good spirits for four days, when he lapsed into unconsciousness and death came to his relief Sunday night.

The immediate family consists of the widow, who was formerly Miss Anna Oxholm of this city, and one son, Raymond, aged 7 years.

GOOD PROGRAM ARRANGED.

Pleasant Evening Assured for the Beaver Rally at Society Hall Tomorrow Night.

Arrangements are now practically completed for the grand rally to be held Thursday evening under the auspices of the Beavers and Beaver Queens at Society Hall on N. Second street. Every member of both local orders is expected to attend, and each also have the privilege of inviting a friend. The program as outlined includes music during the evening by Hansmann's orchestra, a cornet solo by F. E. Noble and vocal selections by Mrs. C. H. Vetter. Judge Parsons of Antigo, a national director, and Secretary S. A. Oscar of Madison will surely be here to deliver addresses. Mrs. F. E. Noble of this city, who has state wide reputation as a speaker, will also be heard on this occasion. The state organizer, E. S. Hunt, is slated for a talk and it is more than possible that Dr. A. D. Campbell of Richland Center, the grand commander, will come here. Informal remarks will also be made by Mayor Walters and other local residents.

The serving of refreshments will also add to the pleasure of the occasion.

NO BURGLARS; JUST NOISE.

The Wisconsin State bank has a burglar alarm, which, when the vault is opened after hours, rings automatically. At about 5:30 o'clock last Friday afternoon a mysterious ringing noise awakened the curiosity of people down town. It was finally traced to the alarm bell on top of the bank and inquiry brought out the information that it was put in operation through the act of setting the regulating clock an hour ahead. There was no burglar, just noise.

WILL UNITE CHURCHES.

Rev. Theo. Ringene returned home last Friday morning from Minneapolis, where he attended the sessions of the Norwegian Lutheran Synod. As expected, the Synod, through its pastors and laymen in attendance at the meeting, voted in favor of a union of the three bodies of Norwegian Lutherans in this country. More than two-thirds of those entitled to vote expressed themselves in favor of uniting, and it was left to the church council to bring the measure into effect. The United Lutherans had previously taken similar action and it is expected that the Hauge Synod will do likewise. However, the United Lutherans and the Synod will unite regardless of the action of the Hauge Synod.

R. Anderson and A. P. Lewis attended the synod meeting as lay delegates.

RETURN FROM WEST.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Ossowski returned home last Thursday morning from an extended and thoroughly enjoyed trip west. Mr. and Mrs. Ossowski left here eight months ago and for six months thereafter were at Los Angeles. They left that city early in April and were on the road a good deal of the time from then until their arrival home. They visited San Francisco, Portland, Salt Lake City and intermediate points and during the last three weeks were at Excelsior Springs, Mo., where they sought the benefits of the famous waters. Mr. and Mrs. Ossowski were so well impressed with the climate of California that they have decided to return to Los Angeles in the fall to reside permanently. In the meantime they expect to dispose of their modern residence at 600 Normal avenue and their large brick business block at the northeast corner of Main street and the public square.

MAY DEPOSIT MORE.

Larger postal savings deposits will now be accepted at the postoffice. This is made possible by an important amendment to the Postal Savings Act just approved by President Wilson. A postal savings depositor may now have an account amounting to $1,000 upon which interest will be paid. Formerly $500 was the maximum amount he could have to his credit. This enlargement of postal savings facilities will be very gratifying to thousands of depositors who have already reached the old $500 limit and are anxious to entrust more of their savings to Uncle Sam. Another feature of the amendment that will avoid further embarrassment to the public and to postal officials is the doing away with the limit on the amount that could be accepted from a depositor monthly. Under the old law only $100 could be deposited in a calendar month. The amendment abolishes this restriction. While the Postal Saving System has already proved a signal success as is shown by the fact that more than half a million depositors have over eighty million dollars standing to their credit, still it has fallen short of meeting the full demands of the public because of the restrictions which have now been eliminated. Postmaster General Burleson and Third Assistant Postmaster General Dockery have been tireless in their efforts to secure a modification of the limitations and the new liberalizing legislation is particularly gratifying to them.

NOTICE.

All dental offices in the city will be closed on Saturday afternoons during the months of June, July, August and September.

The Stevens Point Dentists Association.

King George of England, who already speaks several languages, is now studying hard adding Russian to the list.

LEARN FROM ANCIENTS

B. R. Goggins Tells Bankers About Nation Without a Loafer and Without a Pauper.

A plea for a better understanding of personal liberty, for recognition of the right to be governed and for military education in the schools was made by Attorney B. R. Goggins of Grand Rapids in his address before the Portage County Bankers' Development association at Almond last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Goggins announced no title for his address, but his text was, "A nation without a pauper and without a loafer." In his development of his theme he displayed a deep knowledge of history and a keen insight into what things are lacking in our present system of government, particularly municipal government, which, he said, suffers by comparison with that of European cities.

There was one nation in history, and that in the western hemisphere, which was without a pauper and without a loafer, Mr. Goggins asserted. The ancient Peruvians, numbering millions, had a thoroughly organized government and were far advanced in civilization. They have left us monuments of a civilization that ought to be more intensely interesting than some of the histories of the distant east.

The Peruvians had a governing class, he continued, a numerous priesthood, a state religion and a common people. The governing class, which included the emperor and those who belonged to his order, was supposed to be descended from the deity. The emperor was not only the law giver, but the law itself. Those who belonged to his caste were his instruments in the conduct of the government and trained for that office. The common people were the most numerous class.

The country of the Peruvians possessed fertile soil and perpetual sunshine and its fields were irrigated by canals leading from the Andes mountains. They raised an abundance of crops, in the process of which the land was divided into three parts—one part for the sun, which they worshipped and which was represented by the priesthood; one part for the government, represented by the emperor, and the third part for the common people. The common people tilled the land, devoting their time first to that allotted to the sun, second to their own and last to that of the governing class. The products of the soil, after harvest, were stored in great magazines built of stone, providing sufficient food for two years in advance. Famine was unheard of and the people were perfectly happy.

The success of the Peruvian form of government was due to a complete understanding between the classes and the recognition of the rights of each other. The governing class had no right to take from the governed anything allotted to them. This law was rigidly enforced and death was the penalty for violation. On the other hand the common people gave to the governing class the absolute authority to make and enforce laws.

There was no such thing as money in ancient Peru; neither were there taxes, for the products of the land of the governing class paid for the administration of government. Gold, which was mined in great quantities, was used for personal adornment or in the construction of buildings, but not for coins.

Citing the conclusions to be drawn from the history of ancient Peru, Mr. Goggins said that before we can apply the lessons they have taught we must have a correct understanding of what liberty means. He attacked the popular idea that that nation is best governed which is governed least. He said that in our municipal government today we find influences that break down rather than build up citizenship.

As another example of a successful government, Mr. Goggins told of the accomplishments of the United States on the Isthmus of Panama. The French had tried to build the canal, but failed. It was supposed to be sure death for a white man to put foot on the Isthmus, owing to the prevalence of malaria and yellow fever. Col. Gorgas, a man who understood administrative policies and the principles of public health, was sent to the Isthmus. He was handed a commission which meant absolute power, and through this, cleaned up the country, banishing vice and giving protection to public health. There is now no healthier place on the face of the earth than the Canal Zone.

Although it is impossible under present conditions to do in the United States as was done in Panama we are approaching that degree of citizenship where we can, Mr. Goggins declared. We fall down on the administration of laws now because of our boasted advocacy of personal liberty, a thing which, if it continues, is liable to break down our government.

Passing on to the question of training for citizenship, Mr. Goggins impressed upon his hearers the necessity of discipline among the boys and girls. "We ought to have teachers in our schools who possess sufficient force to make Johnny toe the mark," he said, "and in every school of importance in which children gather we should have a representative of the United States government at least three months each year to give the boys instruction in military affairs and discipline. The children should be taught what it means to answer to authority." Explaining his views on military training, Mr. Goggins said he favored this from the standpoint of peace rather than war, for mental and physical development rather than the development of militaristic ideas.

Our country, Mr. Goggins continued, was made up of a more homogeneous people from the time the Declaration of Independence was made down to the civil war period. We have assimilated many nationalities, which must be led to adopt American ideals and American standards of living. "The Polish boy, the Austrian girl and all others of foreign birth must be taught, that they are one people, that we have a certain form of government and a constitution, and that the glory of our country far surpasses that of any other fathers ever knew."

Touching again upon the lack of physical training for American youths, Mr. Goggins declared that American women, who shun the degrading and weakening influences of modern life, are demonstrating a growing superiority over the men.

During the last few minutes of his address Mr. Goggins discussed the commission form of government. This system, he said, is superior to the aldermanic system because the councilmen are chosen to represent the entire city; because the small number of officials makes it possible to pay higher salaries and to demand more efficient and dutiful service, and because responsibility for the conduct of affairs can be centered.

In closing, Mr. Goggins emphasized the truth of the saying, "The better the individual the better the nation," and appealed for a greater interest on the part of the people in their servants in government, whether they represent local divisions, the state or the nation.

NORMALS CLASH ON TRACK.

On Friday of this week the Normal track team, with Coach Corneal, will go to La Crosse to battle for honors with the teams representing the other Normal schools of the state. The local team has been doing some hard work since the dual meet with Lawrence and is expected to make a strong showing Friday. Little is known of the relative strength of the contending teams except that in a recent meet between River Falls Normal and Stout Institute, the latter was victorious, winning by the large margin of 68 to 33.

LOCAL MAN INJURED.

Plainfield Sun: Jack Weaver of Stevens Point met with an accident while at Coloma Wednesday. He left there for Richford, or the Frost farm near there, with Mr. Bertine in the latter's car. Mr. Weaver's hat blew off and while Mr. Bertine was reversing the car to go back for the hat, Mr. Weaver either fell or in some way got out of the car unknown to Mr. Bertine. On hearing the former's screams Mr. Bertine found him partially under his car and hurt quite badly about the head and shoulder. A doctor was summoned when he returned to Coloma and Mr. Weaver left that evening for his home at Stevens Point.

CLIMBING IN SERVICE

Two Young Men From Portage County Advance In Marine Corps.

A Portage county young man, Jacob Lienhard, of Almond, is with the government "Safety First Special" train, in charge of the U. S. Marine Corps exhibit. This train left Washington, D. C., on May 1, 1916, for a three months' tour over the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad System, and is open for inspection in all cities of any size.

Gunnery Sergeant Lienhard, who is a son of Mrs. Emma Lienhard, R. F. D. No. 3, Almond, is now serving on his second enlistment in the Marine Corps. He has had many and varied experiences as a member of that gallant organization, having been awarded some fifteen medals on his first enlistment. Lienhard is considered one of the best rifle shots in the country. Just prior to his present assignment, Gunnery Sergeant Lienhard was on duty in the recruiting district of Chicago. His present billet not only draws attention to the fact that one can satisfy his longing for travel in the Marine Corps, but also gives him the opportunity of meeting many celebrities and others, and bringing to their attention the fact that the U. S. Marine Corps is a distinctive, important and efficient military arm of the government service, and the further fact that service therein is highly desirable.

Young Lienhard is widely known in this community, and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his assignment to this important duty.

In an official bulletin issued by the headquarters of the Marine Corps, Washington, appears the name of Francis X. Lorbetzki, of this city, as having qualified as a marksman in that most interesting branch of the government service.

Francis, who is a son of Mrs. Cecilia Lorbetzki, 706 5th avenue, Stevens Point, enlisted in the United States Marine Corps at its St. Paul, Minn., recruiting station on December 3, 1915, and is now serving at the marine barracks, San Diego, Cal., awaiting transfer to expeditionary duty, where he will have many interesting experiences and adventures, or to a cruising battleship which will visit strange lands and give the Stevens Point youth an excellent opportunity to see the world.

Considering the fact that Lorbetzki is scarcely more than a recruit, his performance in gunnery is looked upon by Marine Corps officials as little short of marvelous, and they expect him to break many marksmanship records before his enlistment expires.

A HOMELESS WANDERER.

Tired and Conscience Stricken Man
Sent to Northern Asylum by Local Authorities.

Driven to repentance and remorse by the weight of his "great sins," real or imagined, and laboring under the hallucination that his reputation was advertised in advance wherever he went, a homeless wanderer who gave the name of George E. Leonard and his age as 49, was brought to the county jail in this city last Friday night.

Saturday morning the man was examined as to his sanity by Drs. W. W. Gregory and R. B. Smiley. He answered the questions of the examiners promptly, clearly and in a manner that stamped him as the possessor of better than an average education. "How would you like to be sent some place where you can rest up and be cared for until you become stronger?" In answer to this question, put to him by one of the doctors, Leonard eagerly expressed his affirmative desire. The necessary papers were made out by County Judge J. A. Murat and he was taken to the Northern asylum Saturday afternoon by Undersheriff Frank Kubisiak and County Clerk A. E. Bourn.

Leonard's memory seemed unimpaired and he told of his past life without hesitation. He was born in Niagara county, New York, and was married in that state in 1888, he said. Three or four years later, he continued, as the result of marital troubles, he left his wife and two small children, a son and a daughter, and, except for receiving notice that his wife was suing for divorce, he has not seen or heard from them since. He has been in Wisconsin fourteen months and was recently employed on a farm near Boardman, St. Croix county. He left there a week ago Saturday and from then until last Friday evening had been tramping from town to town. Friday evening he appeared at the home of A. E. Dafee in Eau Claire township, where he was given food. Mr. Dafee, noticing his peculiar manner, brought him to Junction City in the evening and from there he was accompanied here on the train by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Voyer.

Physically Leonard was in bad condition, due to his long journey afoot and exposure. His conscience bothered him greatly and he seemed to have a craving for religion. When at the Dafee home he excitedly picked up a book from the table and was much disappointed to find it was a dictionary instead of a bible. At the jail he said he thought he was about to die on Friday.

On his person were found $1.16 in money, a razor, a knife, several new handkerchiefs and a time book. On one of the pages of the book was written the following: "In case of accident or death notify Mrs. Ella Donovan, 295 East avenue, Rochester, N. Y., so she can get the insurance of $258 and send her what money I have. Tell dear old Mack and family good by. Also mother." He said Mrs. Donovan is his sister.

Special arrangements have been made whereby we can send you The Gazette and Chicago's greatest paper, The Daily Tribune, both for one year for $4.25, providing you reside on a rural route. If you live in Stevens Point, the price for both papers is $4.95.

Rheumatism.

If you are troubled with chronic or muscular rheumatism give Chamberlain's Liniment a trial. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. Obtainable everywhere.

The fellow who marries for money often looks as though he had earned it, but had some difficulty in collecting.

Whooping Cough.

One of the most successful preparations in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. S. W. McClinton, Blandon Springs, Ala., writes, "Our baby had whooping cough as bad as most any baby could have it. I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it soon got him well." Obtainable everywhere.

A university literary society has discovered and exposed Shakespeare's plagiarism in stealing the plot of Hamlet. But fortunately for the poet the offense is outlawed.

"Chamberlain's Tablets Have Done Wonders for Me."

"I have been a sufferer from stomach trouble for a number of years, and although I have used a great number of remedies recommended for this complaint, Chamberlain's Tablets is the first medicine that has given me positive and lasting relief," writes Mrs. Anna Kadin, Spencerport, N. Y. "Chamberlain's Tablets have done wonders for me and I value them very highly." Obtainable everywhere.

It is none of our business, but it seems to us that it would be a very prosy sort of courtship if the prospective mother-in-law had to be around all the time.

TO REPEAT PAGEANT

"The Piper" To Be Presented At Normal During Summer School Session.

The spectacular pageant, "The Piper," which was staged on the north Normal campus on Tuesday evening of last week, is to be repeated sometime in July, offering an exceptional opportunity to summer school students. Miss Mary Bronson, who was in a large measure responsible for the great success of last week's production, will be a member of the faculty during the summer session, and, with one or two exceptions, will be able to call the entire cast together, for a repetition performance. The presentation of "The Piper" established a high standard for the dramatic work among students of the Normal school, and the interest in the play was evidenced by the sixteen hundred people who witnessed last week's entertainment. It is planned to provide a larger number of seats for the summer pageant, to be arranged so that a large crowd can be comfortably accommodated.

COAL BIDS WANTED.

Bids will be received by the undersigned to and including June 10th, 1916, for filling the coal bunkers of the several public school buildings of the city with soft coal, 500 tons more or less. Quote on different grades of soft coal and mark envelopes containing bids, "Bid on Coal." The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

A dinner was served at eight o'clock, after which several hours were spent enjoying music and social games. Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ainsworth of Stevens Point, parents of Mr. Ainsworth, were the out of town guests. The other guests were local relatives and friends.

The annual reception of the faculty of the Normal to alumni, students and friends was held in the Normal gymnasium on Monday evening of this week. A large crowd was in attendance and the gym was tastefully decorated with flags. A short program was rendered, consisting of a vocal solo by Miss Helen Mohr, folk dancing by Miss Constance Baerman and a vocal solo by Miss Clara Stensma. This was followed by a grand march led by Prof. and Mrs. E. T. Smith, after which dancing was enjoyed until about 11 o'clock, music being furnished by the Normal orchestra. Lunch was served during the evening.

A quiet wedding took place Monday morning, the principals in which were Miss Helen Josephine Haidvogel and Louis Jacobs, both lifelong residents of Stevens Point. The ceremony took place at St. Stephen's church, Rev. H. J. Ehr of St. Joseph's congregation officiating. Miss Haidvogel's gown was of silk net over chiffon and she carried a white prayer book and a lily of the valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Erma Hall and she wore pink silk taffeta and carried a basket of sweet peas and roses. Joseph Haidvogel, a brother of the bride, was groomsmen.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Haidvogel, 312 Jefferson street, to a company of about twenty-five. The house was prettily decorated with smilax, carnations, roses and pink streamers. After the meal the newly married couple started by automobile, ostensibly for the Soo line passenger depot. Instead, however, they drove to Custer, but their plan to elude their friends was in vain, for a number of the wedding guests boarded the 10:15 o'clock train and gave them a shower of rice and good wishes when they reached Custer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs will spend a week or ten days on their trip, which will take in Oshkosh, Milwaukee and Chicago, after which they will take up their residence at the home of Mr. Jacobs' father, N. C. Jacobs, 710 Main street. Louis is associated with his father in the Jacobs Novelty Co.

The Butterflies will meet with Mrs. C. von Neupert at her home on Church street this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Suski, who are now preparing to go to housekeeping at their new home in the town of Buena Vista, spent part of Decoration Day among friends in this city. As stated in last week's Gazette, Martin and Miss Bertha Gosh were married at the Fancher church May 23d. The wedding celebration, which took place at the Mike Gosh home in Stockton township, was attended by several hundred friends, most of the guests coming via automobile, of which fifty cars were parked on the premises. Those from a considerable distance included the groom's aunt, Mrs. Ed. Ossowski of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Schigloski and daughter Pauline of Tomahawk, Frank and Jos. Gosh and wives of Hatley. The newly weds started out on their journey together with the blessings of all who know them.

PUT ON TWO REELER

City League Opens Local Baseball Season—Continental and Palace of Sweets Win.

The First Games
Palace of Sweets, 12; Macnishes; 1.
Continental, 6; Missions, 4.

The race is on! After two false starts the City Baseball league opened the season Sunday with a two reeler. The weather man tried his best to make up for past performances and as a result the day was ideal, with a warm sun giving the players every opportunity to lumber up without fear of disastrous consequences. Both contests were limited to seven innings.

The first game was a walk-away for the Palace of Sweets, who scored three runs right off the reel and soon put the Macnishes hopelessly behind. S. Eagleburger, southpaw pitcher for the winners, worked in mid-season form and allowed but three hits, all singles. Macnish, who started on the hill for the losers, was relieved by J. Bartkowiak in the first of the fourth. H. West, center fielder for the Kandy Kids, was the slugging demon of the contest. In the first inning, on his initial trip to the plate, he drove out a home run to left field and in the third frame lined out a two-bagger.

The second game was more interesting, but the Continentals seemed to have the edge on their younger opponents, the Missions. Marx, pitcher for the Missions, had plenty of "stuff," but lacked control and his support wavered at critical times. Literski was in good form and held the Missions to four hits.

The Missions are young players, who are bound to progress as the season advances. They have played together quite regularly in the past, but were a little nervous in meeting the Continentals, who are more mature in years. The Macnishes showed form far below expectations, but, with a couple of holes plugged up and added confidence, should come around with a stronger front. There were quite a number of errors made in both games, but, in view of the fact that the season was just starting and that the various captains and managers had not the opportunity to test out their material under the "baptism of fire," both were satisfactory exhibitions. A crowd of a couple of hundred turned out, despite counter attractions.

Next Sunday the winners of the first two games, the Continentals and the Palace of Sweets, will do battle against each other. These two teams showed up strong Sunday and should put on a thrilling and interesting fight. There is a great amount of rivalry between the players and the partisans of the two aggregations, and this fact is expected to help attract a big crowd.

The line-ups will be practically the same as in the first games, with the addition of Hussin as shortstop for the Continentals. The statistical story of Sunday's games follows:

CORNERSTONE IS LAID

Rt. Rev. P. J. Lochman Celebrant at St. Joseph's Church Last Sunday Afternoon.

Several thousand people assembled at the corner of Jefferson street and Center avenue last Sunday afternoon to witness the laying of the cornerstone for St. Joseph's new Catholic church, a handsome brick and stone structure to replace the frame building destroyed by fire last fall.

Included in the large turnout were uniformed members of St. Joseph's benevolent society and of Branch No. 123, C. K. of Wis., besides delegations representing Branch No. 11 of the Catholic Knights, Foresters and Knights of Columbus. The latter three organizations marched in a body from their hall on Strong's avenue. Other specially invited guests were Mayor Walters and the various aldermen.

Msgr. P. J. Lochman of Kaukauna, vicar general of the Green Bay diocese, acted as celebrant on the occasion and was assisted by Rev. Hummel of Menasha as deacon; Rev. W. J. Rice, sub-deacon; Rev. H. J. Ehr, the pastor, master of ceremonies. Other clergymen present were Rev. M. Ruppold of St. John, Rev. P. Borowski of Plover, Rev. M. Klossowski of Mill Creek, Rev. J. A. Bartelme of Custer, Revs. S. A. Elbert, J. Machnikowski, B. Walejko and P. Banka of this city.

The first number on the program was a hymn by St. Joseph's choir, after which Father Ruppold delivered a sermon in the German language. The reverend gentleman spent part of his boyhood days in Stevens Point, when he was a member of the local parish. He is an exceptionally able speaker and delivered an inspiring address.

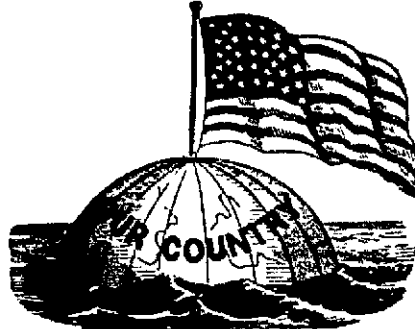

The cornerstone, into which had been inserted a copper box containing numerous church records, various coins, the names of national, state and city officers, signatures of members of the parish, etc., was then put into place by M. J. Mersch and C. H. Wollenschlager, after which the vicar general addressed the assemblage. He congratulated the membership of the local parish on their determination to rear another handsome structure for the greater honor and glory of God, and also expressed the thought that every citizen of Stevens Point has reason to rejoice because another beautiful edifice will soon be erected in their midst.

Stands for the sale of sodas, ice cream and cakes had been erected, and as the day was an ideal one for the disposal of these refreshments, receipts amounting to the large total of $222 are reported.

Music was furnished during the afternoon by Weber's band.

The Flax Plant.
Linen is obtained from the flax plant, a small, delicate annual with a tiny blue flower. The plant is pulled by hand in the summer, the seeds, known in commerce as linseed, being removed and the straw subjected to various processes to separate the fibrous part which constitutes the linen. First it is steeped in water and then passed through a drying and heating process on revolving wheels until all foreign matter is removed. It is then ready for manufacture.

Not Right Kind of Notes.
When Mr. Newedge went home the other evening he guessed something had occurred to displease the light of his life. She looked gloomy. After dinner it all came out.

IN MEMORIAM.

(Verses written by Amelia Schliesmann in remembrance of her beloved grandfather, Peter Schliesmann, who died May 24, 1916.)
How peaceful was his dying hour,
When many a tear did fall,
As he bade farewell forever more,
To wife and children all.
No, they never can forget him,
As to that old home they go,
And think of the loving welcome,
He breathed so soft and low.
As the morning light was dawning,
Silently he passed away,
Passed from this earth to be with Jesus,
In that land of endless day.
God through all these years was with him,
Helping him the cross to bear,
Giving him his loving promise
Of the crown he soon would wear.
His memory and suffering shall be our blessing,
Like a light to guide us on,
Helping us to bear suffering as patient,
As the dear one who has gone.
Now he is with his loved ones
On that beautiful golden shore,
We'll find him waiting there for us,
When our trials of life are o'er.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our kind relatives, neighbors and friends who so nobly assisted us during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. We wish especially to thank the members of the choir, Mrs. George Knoller of Dancy, and son, Coniff, Miss Selina Breitenstein and Jerry Breitenstein of Knowlton, John Tovey and Henry Welch of Stockton for rendering their noble services, and also the many friends who sent flowers, and all members of the church. EMPIRE BUILDER J. J. HILL DEAD

Bloodpoisoning in Thigh Ends
Great Career.

FORTUNE NEAR $200,000,000

Rated Greatest Transportation Mind of All Time—Started Life as Canadian Farm Boy—First Aspired to Be Great Surgeon—Death of Father
Changed History.

ST. PAUL, MINN.—James J. Hill railroad magnate, died at his home here following an operation for infection of his thigh.

"The end came quietly," said an official statement. "Mr. Hill became unconscious a few hours before. There were no death agonies."

Rushed here by special train, Mrs. Samuel Hill, Washington, entered the death chamber just in time to grasp the hand of her dying father. Mrs. A. M. Beard, New York, is the only child who did not get here before the end came. Her special train was reported between St. Paul and La Crosse, Wis., when death came.

Mrs. Beard arrived half an hour after the empire builder died.

Mrs. Hill Collapses.
At the bedside were all of the other children and the widow, who collapsed and is in an extremely nervous condition.

The children are Mrs. Samuel Hill, Washington; Mrs. A. M. Beard, New York; James W. Hill, New York; Mrs. George T. Slade, St. Paul; Mrs. Earl Boeckmann, St. Paul; Walter Hill, Hallock, Minn.; Mrs. Michael Gavin, New York; and Miss Clara Hill and Louis Hill.

Son Leaves Sick Bed.

Walter Hill arose from a sick bed to come to the bedside of his father. Mr. Hill was one of the wealthiest men of the United States, and it is estimated his estate is $250,000,000.

The entire city of St. Paul immediately began preparations to honor the memory of Hill. The Northwest, considering him its greatest man, was ready to pay tribute in memorial ceremonies at every railroad division point.

Mr. Hill's funeral will be held at his Summit avenue home at 2 p. m. Wednesday and Archbishop John Ireland deliver the funeral sermon. Burial will take place here.

Wanted to Be Surgeon.

History of the life of James Jerome Hill is a history of the development of the Northwest. This was perhaps the most thorough influence in the development of this vast expanse of almost half a continent over which his railroads extend. Fifty years ago Hill was a dock clerk in St. Paul—practically penniless. Today his fortune is millions.

He was born near Guelph, Ontario, Sept. 16, 1838. His parents, James and Anne Hill, were plain, hard-working Scottish and North of Ireland stock, whose best asset was their ability and willingness to work. This trait they transmitted to their son.

Hill wanted to be a great surgeon. This hope was blasted by the death of his father when he was 15.

Takes Job as Clerk.

Hill came to St. Paul in July, 1856. Without technical preparation of any sort, he took a job as clerk with a steamship company. He held this job for nine years.

Two years later he married and went into the general trade and transportation business for himself. He was the first man to bring mineral coal to St. Paul. At about the same time he got his first experience in railroads when he accepted a position as station agent on the Chicago and North Western. He was promoted to St. Paul, where he came to St. Paul in 1868. He was one of the Northwest's first millionaires. In 1871 he was elected president of the Chicago and North Western. He was elected president of the Chicago and North Western in 1871. He was elected president of the Chicago and North Western in 1871. He was elected president of the Chicago and North Western in 1871.

Organized Transportation Company.
In 1875 he organized the Great Northern Railway. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875.

This was the first of the great systems which he built up in the Northwest. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875. He was elected president of the Great Northern Railway in 1875.

DEMOCRATS ADOPT TARIFF BOARD PLAN

Anti-Dumping and Unfair Competition Clauses in.

WASHINGTON. — Democrats of the house ways and means committee formally adopted as a part of the general revenue bill the Rainey tariff commission bill introduced at the instance of the administration and incorporated in the general measure antidumping clauses and a provision to prevent unfair competition from foreign business interests. Nothing definite was done regarding the income, inheritance and munitions taxes. The committee is expected to report the revenue bill shortly.

For the tariff commission's expenses $300,000 would be annually appropriated.

The unfair competition provision is so worded as to put foreign importers through their agents in the same position as American manufacturers are under the antitrust law. It would make it illegal for foreign importers to do so depress the price of goods as to ruin an industry.

The antidumping clause is practically the same as in the original Underwood tariff bill, but stricken out by the senate.

CHICAGO CHEERS FOR T. R.

"We Want Teddy!" the Welcoming Crowd Shouts.

CHICAGO, ILL. — Theodore Roosevelt now has trained upon him the periscope of all the old guard and the favorite sons in the G. O. P. trenches. The colonel spent four hours in Chicago, four characteristic, pepper and punch, Rooseveltian hours.

He was greeted by crowds that uncorked some of the exuberance of 1912. He hammered away on national defense as peace insurance. He gave the pacifists the second barrel. He held a series of conferences for political preparedness for the Republican and Progressive national conventions, which arrive simultaneously.

He sped toward Kansas City at 8 o'clock with all the telescopes and field glasses of the politicians now on the scene pointed in his direction. The question they are all asking is—what effect will the Missouri turn have upon T. R.'s political fortunes?

BULGAR STROKE ANGERS GREECE

Outbreak Threatened Over Invasion by Former Foe.

SHARP FIGHT AT FORT RUPEL

Brisk Exchanges of Hostilities Along Frontier Follows Invasion by Teuton Ally—Venizelos Party Demands War With Central Powers as Result—Riots Reported.

PARIS. — All Greece is in a turmoil because the hated Bulgars, 25,000 strong, have occupied the three Greek forts of Rupel, Drogotin and Spatovo, ignominiously ousted the Greek garrisons, and are advancing toward the Greek port on the Aegean Sea, Kavalla, which was wrested from the Bulgars at the close of the second Balkan war.

The Greek government, according to dispatches from Athens, is determined on a policy of nonresistance, but grave disturbances have broken out in Athens and elsewhere, which may lead to mutiny on the part of the army and revolt on the part of the people.

Allies to Block Advance.

In the meantime the forces of the entente allies are prepared for any advance the Bulgars and Germans may make, and nearly 100,000 Serbians newly outfitted and armed have arrived from Corfu, where they rested for months after their terrible defeat by the Teuton hosts, and are anxious for an advance which will carry them back into their own country, now under the heel of the conqueror.

"Whoever dreamed to see the Bulgarian flag supplant the Greek flag in Macedonia! Just for this we have maintained mobilization at the cost of the economic ruin of the country."

M. Venizelos, the former premier, thus writes in the Herald, the Venizelist organ at Athens.

The Herald has appeared with a black border as a token of national mourning.

Athens newspapers say that the deposition of German and Bulgarian officers in determining the surrender of Fort Rupel explained that its occupation was necessary to secure the Bulgarian left wing against an eventual entente allied attack.

The surrender of the fort was affected at three o'clock Friday morning and the protocol signed by the German, Bulgarian and Greek officers. The Germans and Bulgarians, the newspapers say, undertook to restore the fort to Greece so soon as the reasons for its occupation no longer existed.

FIGHT FOLLOWS INVASION.

Brisk fighting between Greeks and Bulgars occurred at several points along the frontier, following the invasion of Greek territory by the Bulgars.

A detachment from the Greek garrison at Fort Rupel fired on the Bulgars before evacuating the position. The Greeks were incensed, according to Saloniki dispatches, because the Bulgars entered the fort before the time they had stipulated for its evacuation expired. The Bulgars returned the fire, the Greeks withdrawing without serious casualties on either side.

The Greek government has warned border commanders to take every precaution to prevent serious encounters.

FARMER KILLS GIRL RIDING BY IN AUTO

Indiana Man, Held for Murder, Is Spirited Away.

HARTFORD CITY, IND. — Coroner Charles Rutledge filed a report of murder with the county prosecutor after he had held an inquest in the death of Gertrude Stout, eight. The girl, while riding in an automobile Sunday with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Thomas has been taken to a jail in City for safekeeping, as the inquest against him is great.

Thomas explained his act by saying he was startled by the sudden appearance of the machine and threw up his hands, accidentally hitting the bucket fly into the machine.

Saturday, May 27.—The United States, denouncing interference with neutral mails, notifies Great Britain and France that it can no longer tolerate the wrongs which American citizens have suffered and continue to suffer through the "lawless practice" those governments have indulged in, and that only a radical change in policy, restoring the United States to its full rights as a neutral power, will be satisfactory.

Sunday, May 28.—Occupation by the French of portions of three craters formed by the explosion of German mines in the Argonne is announced in the official statement issued by the French war department. Paris and Berlin report other attacks repulsed.

The Bulgars entered Greek territory unopposed and occupied three fortresses, one taken from them by the Greeks in the last war.

After crossing the Aegean Sea without loss, the Serbian army in full strength, or about 100,000 men, now has been landed at Saloniki, according to a dispatch received at Paris by wireless telegraph.

EARTH ROADS
IN SPRINGTIME

Drains and Side Ditches Should Be Kept Open.

THE DRAG VERY USEFUL.

Good Drainage is the Cardinal Essential in Maintaining Good Roads During the Spring—Water Must Be Drained Away From the Highway, For the Foundation Must Be Kept Dry in Any Event.

(Prepared by office of good roads, department of agriculture.)

The cardinal essential in spring maintenance of earth roads, especially those on heavy soils, is good drainage. So long as the water can be kept from penetrating deeply into these roads they will remain at least fairly passable. To accomplish this on average earth roads, however, is far from easy. During the early part of this season of the year rains are often of long duration and tend to saturate the soil. Water from melting snows is perhaps even more penetrating than long continued rains, while alternate freezing and thawing of the wet surface tend to increase the porosity of the soil and permit even more ready access of water into the foundation.

The chief attention of the road man must therefore be directed toward getting and keeping the water away from the road. So long as the foundation can be kept dry, even a heavy freeze followed by a rapid thaw will do little or no real damage to the road surface. A dry soil does not heave. The foundation will thus still be solid, and the road will be able to sustain the traffic without serious rutting. On the other hand, a saturated soil expands greatly on freezing and when it thaws out has not only lost practically all power of sustaining weight of traffic, but also is in an ideal condition for taking up or absorbing still more water and thus forming still more mud. The spring maintenance of earth roads requires, therefore, first, preventive measures, which must be taken the previous fall or summer, so that the road will go into winter properly graded, well compacted and with good provisions for drainage, and, secondly, timely, continuous, systematic and intelligent attention throughout the winter and spring.

It is true that the only sensible and really economical thing to do with earth roads on which traffic has reached a certain volume is to hard surface them. But the larger part of our earth roads must remain such for a long time to come. These roads, however, need not become impassable mud lanes every winter or spring. A certain amount of timely and intelligent attention during the late winter and early spring will yield results commensurate with the cost. We must also learn that it requires as great, if not greater, skill and experience to maintain an earth road properly as to maintain any of the high class pavements. The fundamental principles of earth road maintenance are few and not difficult, but to carry out these principles under the almost infinite variations of conditions with which the road man finds himself confronted requires a high degree of intelligence, skill and experience.

During the early part of the season, as long as the weather is very rainy or there is melting snow on the ground, it will pay to have the road man go over the road daily to see that the drains and side ditches do not become clogged and to note the need of any necessary repairs. A few minutes' work with a shovel may prevent a serious washout or damage which, if not promptly checked, might make the road practically impassable.

The road drag or some other similar device finds its greatest usefulness during this season. It may be used to good advantage to clear the roadway of slush and melting snow and so prevent this water from soaking into and softening the subgrade. To fill ruts, smooth the surface and maintain the crown of the road the drag is uncanceled when in the hands of a skilled operator. An unskilled man may do more harm than good. Furthermore, the actual condition of the road during this period will depend very largely on the knowledge of the road man as to just when to drag, as well as his skill in the operation of the implement.

LOUIS P. ZORN.

Former Local Resident Passes Away
at Weyauwega Last Wednesday.

Epileptic convulsions terminated the earthly career of Louis P. Zorn at the Weyauwega hospital, shortly after noon last Wednesday, May 24. The remains were brought to this city the following day on Soo line train No. 5 and taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. James Johnson, 1208 Church street, from where the funeral was held Saturday at 2:30 o'clock p. m. and interment was made in Forest cemetery. Rev. E. Croft Gear officiated. The pallbearers were Alex Ringness, Matt Tierney, Homer Durand, John Massmann, Frank Thompson and Adam Adams.

Louis P. Zorn was born in Stevens Point fifty-one years ago last March 4th, his parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Zorn, well known pioneer residents of this city. The father died fifteen years ago last March and the mother passed away in this city June 12, 1914. Louis learned the baker's trade in his young manhood days and followed that avocation until he became incapacitated. When he was about twenty-five years of age he went to California and lived in that state fifteen years. It was while there that the malady which terminated in his death came upon him and he was brought home. Seven years ago he was taken to the Northern Hospital at Winnebago for treatment and at the end of four years, finding that he was incurable, he was transferred to the Weyauwega institution.

Mr. Zorn was unmarried. The immediate relatives who survive are three brothers, Arthur of Junction City, David of Milwaukee and Richard of St. Paul, and two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Duncan of Milwaukee and Mrs. Jas. Johnson of this city. Another brother, Carl Zorn, died in this city on June 12, 1915, just one year after the death of his mother.

Those who attended the funeral from outside the city were Mrs. Amanda Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. David Zorn, of Milwaukee, and Richard Zorn of St. Paul.

The passengers will include delegates and all others who reserve accommodations, including ladies, for whom special cars will be provided. The headquarters of the Wisconsin delegation at St. Louis will be the Maryland Hotel, corner of Ninth and Pine streets.

J. R. Pfiffner of this city, district delegate, will leave here on June 12th and join the party at Milwaukee. Geo. Cchutz of Shanawo, the other delegate from this district, will also be a passenger on the special.

PLAY WAS REPEATED

"The Mikado," Comic Opera, Given
Double Presentation To Satisfy Demands.

"The Mikado," that charming Japanese comic opera, was given a beautiful presentation by home talent at the Normal auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings. The audience the first night occupied all the available room in the big auditorium and the seat sale for the Saturday performance was excellent.

There was nothing stinted in the production, which was so elaborate in detail that criticism would be difficult to direct. The costuming, much of which was secured from out of town especially for the play, was typical of the flowery kingdom and as beautiful as it was appropriate. The stage settings were also splendid.

The play itself, with its sweet love story, its thread of a plot, its tuneful musical numbers and its pretty dances, was handled admirably. Joseph T. Gallagher assumed the role of Nanki-Pooh, son of the Mikado disguised as a minstrel, and his work, particularly his vocal selections, was a bright feature of the entertainment. The part of Yum-Yum, ward of Ko-Ko, Lord High Executioner of the city of Titipu, and the object of Nanki-Pooh's affections, was allotted to Miss Ramona Pfiffner, by whom it was given an admirable interpretation. Miss Pfiffner's singing was done with her usual grace and ability. Ko-Ko, who almost lost his job because he didn't tend to his business, was represented by Valentine Putz in an able manner. A. J. Miller was a hit as Pooh Bah, "Lord High Everything Else," and Claude Hussin as Pish Tush, a noble lord, looked and acted the part. Miss Helen Mohr and Miss Margaret Tozier were well cast as Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing, sisters of Yum-Yum, and Prof. R. W. Faurchild as the Mikado gave all the dignity required in the part. Miss Clara Stensaaas was Katisha, "a lady far removed from the springtime of life and whose amorous disposition makes striking contrast with her lack of physical charm." Her make-up was grotesque and Miss Stensaaas took complete advantage of the comedy opportunities her part afforded. Her every appearance was the signal for a wave of merriment in the audience.

The instrumental music was furnished by Weber's orchestra, augmented by several members of the Normal orchestra. The dance numbers, in which a large chorus of young women and young men participated, were replete with singing and dancing that made this feature a strong part of the opera. Miss Maybelle M. Shelton, supervisor of music in the Normal, had general charge of the production and she was given able assistance in directing the cast by Mrs. F. A. Beach of Emporia, Kas. Miss Annabelle Dunlap was the pianiste, the Misses Mary Bronson and Margaret Tozier coached the chorus and the stage equipment by Prof. C. A. Bowman, electrical effects by Otto Brandeis and advertising by Miss E. Eimar.

During the intermission between the two acts of the play the audience was invited to join in the singing of "On Wisconsin," led by Miss Shelton, and the volume of music that resulted indicated that the invitation was generally accepted.

REGISTER FARM NAMES.

SUFFRAGE NOTES.

(Contributed)

The Wisconsin contingent of the great suffrage parade in Chicago, June 7, will form back of the Art Institute in Grant Park at 3 p. m. The state president, Mrs. H. M. Youmans of Waukesha, carrying a Wisconsin pennant, will lead. Mrs. Helen Haight will serve as grand marshal. Mrs. B. M. Caplos, president of the Waukesha County Suffrage Association, will carry a badge, typical of the state. Many slogans bearing on different phases of the woman suffrage question will be carried.

The parade is in charge of General Kayser, U. S. A., whose military experience is necessary for the management of the thousands who are expected to march. General Kayser leading will be followed by Mrs. J. A. Fairbank as grand marshal. A band follows and next in line will be the members of the present and former executive boards of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, headed by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt. Mrs. Harrison Monroe Brown, president of the Illinois Equal Suffrage Association, will follow the executive board.

The parade will be divided into ten divisions, four battalions in each division.

Reports from many sections of the state indicate great interest in the parade and a large Wisconsin delegation is assured. Special cars over the Chicago, Milwaukee Electric line will run from Milwaukee and a special car will run from Madison to accommodate the marchers. Those going from the eastern and southern part of the state will meet in Milwaukee in front of the Public Library at ten o'clock a. m., June 7, and will march down Grand avenue with drums beating and flags flying. Every woman is expected to carry her luncheon. The cars will return from Chicago at any time desired after the parade. The Wisconsin uniform consists of white waist and skirt, black shoes, white sailor hat with yellow band and a yellow tunic bearing the word "Wisconsin" down the front in big letters.

That Chicago is anticipating the visit of the suffragists with great interest is indicated by the fact that the great State Street and Michigan avenue stores have their windows filled with suffrage regalia and votes for women decorations.

The growth of suffrage sentiment during the past two years is conspicuous at the Biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in New York City. When the General Federation endorsed suffrage at the Chicago convention two years ago, eighteen state federations, including Wisconsin, had taken similar action. Since that time fifteen more state federations have endorsed votes for women.

Senators Borah of Idaho and Thompson of Kansas, delegates to the Republican and Democratic conventions respectively, have announced that they will support the endorsement of the principle of equal suffrage in their party platform.

Mrs. Louise F. Lusk of Missoula, Montana, is one of the eight delegates to the Republican national convention elected in the Montana primaries out of a field of twenty-two candidates. Mrs. Lusk is a director in the First National Bank in Missoula and is active in charitable work.

J. Stitt Wilson, former mayor of Berkeley, California, says: "In Los Angeles in 1915, 88,544 women registered. In the whole county 148,101. The total registration of men in the county was 182,203. In Berkeley at one election over 46 per cent of the total registered were women."

The thin blue line of 1861 is fading away in numbers only. It's still the same old blue.

BUENA VISTA CONTEST.

The Buena Vista town spelling, penmanship and arithmetic contest was held at the Keene school Friday afternoon, May 19. It was conducted by Miss Nellie M. Stinson, teacher in the above named school and chairman of the contest, assisted by Miss Bonnylin Biron, who teaches in Dist. No. 5, and Miss Cicely Dineen, teacher in the Liberty Corners District.

Previous to this time contests were held in the various districts and Berneice Dorscheid was the champion at Keene, Evelyn Smith in Dist. No. 5, and Esther Cieski at Liberty Corners. The remaining schools in the town did not furnish contestants.

Evelyn Smith received first place in spelling, missing only two words from a list of 100 difficult ones. In the arithmetic contest Bernice Dorscheid and Esther Cieski tied for first place and in the penmanship contest Esther Cieski received first place. The various standings were averaged; and Esther Cieski received the highest average; therefore she represented Buena Vista in the county contests held at the Normal school in Stevens Point May 27.

Immediately after the contest the pupils of the above named schools presented a very pleasing program consisting of songs, recitations and readings to a large number of people who by their presence proved to be friends of education.

The various contestants, the pupils who appeared on the program and their teachers are to be complimented for the success of the entertainment of the afternoon.

The pupils of school district No. 2, town of Hull, gave a picnic on the banks of the Plover river Friday afternoon, May 26, this being the last day of school. A short program preceded the picnic. One of the numbers on this program was the play "Hawatha" given by the third and fourth grades in Indian costumes.

A marshmallow roast followed the picnic, which was greatly enjoyed by the crowd.

Miss Martha B. Marchel is the teacher in this school.

RAISE ROAD MONEY.

Local People Give $100 for Hull Road

—Series of "Trail Days" Are Planned.

When it became known that the town of Hull was lacking funds to improve the Stockton road just east of Plover Hills, a distance of about 500 feet, T. H. Hanna, by the use of a telephone, got local business men interested to the extent of $100 in about 20 minutes. Residents of Stockton station swelled the amount to $125 and with this fund three carloads of crushed rock will be purchased for use on the road, which has for years been regarded as one of the worst pieces of highway in the county. As the town of Hull is now macadamizing the road between the city limits and the west side of the Plover river valley, a good road from the city to Stockton station is in prospect.

The Stevens Point firms and individuals who contributed to the $100 fund follow: First National bank, Citizens National bank and Stevens Point Brewing Co., $10 each; Wisconsin State bank, Copps Co., Nelson & Hanna, Mayor F. A. Walters, C. W. Andrae, Gross & Jacobs Co., Krembs Hardware Co., T. E. Cauley, James Tovey, Moll-Glendon Co., Boston Furniture & Undertaking Co., G. A. Gulikson, Badger Garage and Auto Sales Co., $5 each.

The Stevens Point Business Men's association and the Stevens Point Retailers' association will work together this year in boosting for good roads. Several "trail days" are planned, beginning early next month. One of the roads it is proposed to improve by public effort is the river road to Dancy, in Carson. It is stated that residents of Carson and Eau Claire are anxious to help out with teams and men. The river road between the north city limits and Mill Creek, which was the scene of the first "trail day" last year, will be repaired with gravel, according to plans. This is a part of the Yellowstone Trail and is damaged to some extent each year by floods. Another road on the list is that which leads through Rocky Run, along the west river bank in Carson.

Neale which resulted as follows: Miss Nora Fewings, Plover, first prize, free trip to the state fair at Milwaukee. Miss Tessie Soik, Stockton, second prize, large Perry flag. Third place was won by Miss Edna Masted of New Hope. Twenty-six students competed in the contest.

The sewing and baking contest, judged by Miss Alice Gordon, Portage county supervising teacher, and Miss Cornelia Luce and Miss Katherine Tupper of the Normal school, resulted as follows: Apron contest—Eva Ivener, Stockton, first; Ida Ivener, Stockton, second; Magnild Masted, New Hope, third. Bread contest—Luella Kankrud, Amherst Junction, first; Eva Ivener, Stockton, second; Hilda Piddie, Amherst Junction, third. Cake contest—Laura Sobora, Junction City, first; Hilda Piddie, Amherst Junction, second. Blue ribbons were awarded winners of first prize, red for second, and white for third.

In the afternoon commencing at 1:30, a program was carried out, consisting of music by students of the Rural school course, clarinet solo by Jesse Loberg, address to graduating class by Pres. John F. Sims of the Normal, vocal solo by Miss Elizabeth McGroarty of Rosholt, accompanied by Miss Irene Hite; presentation of diplomas by Supt. Frances C. Banach, and music by Messrs. Jesse Loberg, Oscar Loberg and Miss Cora Doxrud.

The play, "Back to the Farm," which had been previously staged by members of the rural school course of the Normal, under Miss Jennie Graham, was repeated, following the regular program. The auditorium was crowded to the doors by friends and parents, showing a growing interest in rural school work.

In his address, Pres. Sims opened by welcoming parents and friends to the commencement exercises. He spoke directly to those students who had finished their common school education and were about to receive their diplomas, urging them to continue further with educational work. He cited the Wisconsin motto, "Forward," urging advancement and progress for those about to be graduated. Statistics were used by Mr. Sims showing the difference in salaries between high school graduates and graduates of common schools at different ages. He finished by urging them to do more than they were paid to do, and to advance, not to retrogress.

Diplomas were awarded to 161 boys and girls.

Announcement was made of the repetition of "The Mikado," Saturday evening, and many remained to witness the performance.

GOING TO WAUSAU.

A. Myers, chairman of the common council's committee on fire department, has received an invitation from the American LaFrance motor fire truck company for a delegation of city officials to go to Wausau Sunday to witness a demonstration of that city's fire truck, which has been in use for a year or more. A representative of the company will be there to have charge of the demonstration. Mr. Myers has offered the use of his automobile for the trip and Alderman Alois Firkus has offered his, and a good sized delegation will go up. Those who will probably go, besides Messrs. Myers and Firkus, are, Mayor F. A. Walters, Fire Chief C. H. Packard, Controller G. L. Rogers, Foremen Herman Krembs and Thomas Helmski of the fire department and Aldermen R. K. McDonald and Frank Urowski, the other two members of the fire department committee. ANOTHER VETERAN GONE

George Maine, Sr., Soldier in Civil War and Early Day Lumberman, Is Dead.

The death of George Maine, Sr., one of the early day lumbermen of Portage county and veteran of the civil war, occurred at his home, 401 Strong's avenue, at 9:20 o'clock last Friday evening. Mr. Maine was in good health up to Thursday afternoon of last week, when he was stricken with paralysis. From that time until his death he remained in an unconscious state.

Mr. Maine was 76 years of age last September and was born in Cheddar, Somersetshire, England. He came to America with his parents in 1848. Nine years later he and his brother, Robert, left their home in New York state and became residents of Portage county. Mr. Maine found employment in the lumber industry and it was while returning from a trip to a southern market, where he had gone on a raft of lumber, that he enlisted in Co. B, 26th Illinois regiment. He served until the close of the war and during the intervening period endured the privations of life in a Confederate prison.

Returning to Portage county Mr. Maine resumed lumbering and continued in the business for a long period of years, during part of which he was associated with his brother, Robert. He was married at Jordan to Miss Hulda Ann Muzzy and about 25 years ago the family moved to this city, where Mrs. Maine died in May, 1911. They had two children, George Maine, Jr., who is in business here, and a daughter, Mrs. C. D. Shuart, who died at Brandon in October, 1908.

Mr. Maine was married a second time to Mrs. George Clough at St. Cloud, Fla., in April, 1912. During recent years he spent the winters at St. Cloud and he and his wife returned from the southland early last April.

Besides his son and widow, Mr. Maine leaves a sister, Mrs. Ellen Hungerford, who is living at the Veterans' Home, Waupaca; a brother, Robert, of this city, and another brother, Thomas, of Rochester, N. Y.

The funeral was held from St. Paul's M. E. church Monday evening, Rev. E. L. Hayward officiating. Interment was in Forest cemetery. The pallbearers were W. J. Delaney, James Welch, C. H. Packard, G. K. Mansur, R. K. McDonald and J. W. Strope.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

The determination of Norman S. Taber to quit the running track eliminates the fastest mile runner that the world has yet produced since records were kept. Last July Taber ran a mile at the Harvard stadium in 4 minutes 12.3 seconds, faster than the distance had before been accomplished by a runner. It was one of the greatest performances in the history of track athletics. For thirty-two years the world's mark had stood at 4 minutes 12.3 seconds, made by the English professional W. G. George at Littlebridge, England.

Taber is a native of Providence, twenty-five years old, and entered Brown university in the fall of 1909. There he won a Rhodes scholarship and spent two years at Oxford. He was one of the American Olympic team that went to Stockholm in 1912 and finished third in the 1,500 meter event. Taber is one of the college athletes who upset the ancient theory that a good athlete cannot be a good student, for he received high enough marks at Brown to win a Rhodes scholarship.

SAVE THE ROADS.

Save the roads. That ought to be your slogan. It is probable that many of those who are now hauling excessive loads, driving heavy automobiles, using chains and otherwise cutting up the plikes are loudest in their denunciations of the officials who tax them to repair the roads. If you cut the roads up or if you permit them to be ruined and make no effort to prevent it you should not complain at any cost of repairs. Now is the time to save the roads.—Decatur Democrat.

OUR MILITARY ROADS POOR

Major P. S. Bond Criticizes Both Quantity and Quality.

The United States is poorly equipped both as to the quantity and the quality of its roads, according to Major P. S. Bond, corps of engineers, U. S. A., in an article published in the Engineering Record. In any military operations conducted in our territory, extensive road construction must be carried on by both combatants. Military road work will consist very largely of the improvement, repair and maintenance of existing roads, but in many of our possible theaters of war, including the United States and other parts of the American continent, extensive new construction work will also be necessary.

In the location and construction of a military road the peculiar economies of warfare, which have been heretofore mentioned, should be kept constantly in mind. In the construction of a civil road or railroad the amount of money which may be profitably expended in reducing grades, securing good alignment and in paving (in the case of a road), is determined from the estimate of the nature and amount of the probable traffic. In military construction the element of cost is of secondary importance, but the question of time is paramount. The road must be opened for traffic in the least possible time. Nevertheless, the nature and amount of traffic and the period during which the road will probably be required are not, of course, entirely disregarded. The road will usually be constructed to meet the exigency of the moment, and may later be altered and improved to meet the development of the situation.

Common labor will ordinarily be plentiful, but often no plant at all will be at hand.

STATE HIGHWAY PROBLEMS.

All but Ten States Now Have Road Departments.

Arthur Blanchard, professor in charge of the graduate course in highway engineering at Columbia university, New York city, said in part at a recent lecture before the Automobile Club of America:

"There are 2,300,000 miles of public highways outside of municipalities in the United States. There was expended during 1914 for the construction and maintenance of these highways $200,000,000, and, according to a conservative estimate, at least $50,000,000 of this was wasted.

"Of the forty-eight states in the Union, thirty-eight have highway departments. There are over 3,000 counties in the various states, and the county and township highway work is in the hands of over 100,000 highway officials. Each of the 12,000 municipalities in the United States has from one to twenty officials in charge of departments whose work pertains to highways. Fifty per cent of these highway officials do not possess the training and experience necessary to efficiently and economically perform the duties imposed upon them.

"The chaotic conditions and waste of public funds indicated by the above may be attributed primarily to three factors—first, too intimate relationship between politics and highway work; second, lack of active interest on the part of the public; third, the small number of engineers filling public administrative positions which control highway work."

Grading an Earth Road in Spring.

In maintaining an earth road provision should be made for doing all necessary grading or earth work as early in the spring as possible in order that it may become thoroughly consolidated before the dry weather of summer. If the work is done too late the road will not only probably become very dusty in dry weather, but will need additional attention later in the fall. Where the soil is a heavy clay or gumbo the condition of the road may be very materially improved by adding sand from time to time as that already on the road is worked in by the passing traffic and the drag.

Only rarely do our earth roads, even when neglected, become equally bad over their entire length. Most frequently the really bad places are confined to comparatively short sections, while the remainder of the road is fairly passable. An examination of the worst will usually show that the drainage, either surface or underground, is seriously at fault. The trouble can be remedied by providing the necessary drainage, and in nearly every case could have been prevented by a comparatively small amount of timely and properly directed attention. The lesson is obvious. Systematically organized and properly directed maintenance throughout all seasons is our only guaranty of fairly passable earth roads during the spring of the year.
